Gregg's Good News

There are two events coming in the near term to plan for.

1. Starting on Jan. 15, a sermon series titled, “Considering the Claims of Christianity.” Jason and I began the planning for this last Fall and we are excited to present the teaching. This should be a great time to invite a friend you are discussing Christian matters with.

Topics will include things like: Arguments for God Outside of Scripture, Why Is the Bible Believable? Evidence for Jesus Outside the Bible, A Biblical Portrait of Jesus . . . and various questions frequently posed about God. The hope is that these sermons will answer questions for our many guests and solidify the faith for those of us who are longer term believers.

Jason and I are “team preaching” for two main reasons. Many of these topics require a lot of research, so this way we will both have time to learn before we speak. Second, it is important for other members of the ministry staff to gain preaching experience and for the congregation to be exposed to their voices.

2. During the Summer, various Ministry Leaders put up tri-fold posters to advertise the Ministries of this congregation. After that initial exposure, the aim is to now ask congregation members to sharpen their focus. Hopefully, you will “put your name on the dotted line” to indicate your willingness to serve in a ministry.

Sunday, January 22 is our Ministry Fair. Leaders will once again set up the tri-folds and be available to discuss the aims and service opportunities associated with each ministry. Plan to spend 15 minutes after the morning Assembly time going through the exhibits in the Basement and enjoying a light snack. Then sign-onto a team you will serve with.

CHALLENGE FOR TONIGHT:

Let’s share a potluck dinner together. The challenge: MEN COOK!!! I think I can make some rolls and soup. How about you?

Happy New Year!! Are you bleary eyed this morning from staying up really late last night? Did you stop for coffee or tea to get your caffeine boost? Maybe you are a morning person and loving this time of worship we get to have today. Whatever it is, I am glad you chose to begin this day and this year, 2017, with worship. There is no better way to begin a year than to worship God and praise Him for what He has done in the past and the hope we have for the future in Him.
