Gregg's Good News

For some people, being a member of the Church of Christ in the NW United States can feel lonely. Congregations are fewer and farther between than in the SE. Culture in Oregon is much more pagan than in most states.

Another way to view those realities, is to acknowledge how important our witness is in this place. Plus, I was reminded the past few days at a Continuing Ed. workshop with other Church of Christ Ministers, that the unique setting we serve in shapes us in a positive way. Congregations are not in competition; we want to cooperate, support and love one another. Ministers exist to build each other rather than to compare who is best.

As I left the event yesterday, I sensed that the Professors who came from Nashville and Austin had observed the unique spirit of brotherhood. And enjoyed a glimpse of "love one another."

Going a step farther, I pause and thank God for placing us in this unique place. Without question, gospel is needed here. What a privilege that He entrusts His work to us!

Changing the World by Communicating Christ: From Corvallis to the Continents

Eugene Men's Day is Saturday, Jan. 27. There is a lunch at 11:30. Plans are in place for a van to leave here at 8:45 am and return from Eugene at 3:30 pm. Tell Maria no later than Thursday if you plan to attend and/or ride in the van. We need to give Eugene a count for planning.

Pam and I are away for a few days. I expect to be back in the office on Thursday. This has been a tougher Winter than most for me health-wise. (I'm observing that has been true for many of us.) I appreciate your prayers for improvement.

What a great ethics class. We have nine students in our ethics course this term for CITE. With a diverse group of four Americans and five Chinese students, six girls and three guys, we are already having some good conversations about how we decide what is good and what is the right thing to do.

One quandary concerns driverless cars. Would you buy a car that was programmed to avoid other living things on the road no matter the situation? What if avoiding the living thing on the road meant injuring or killing the people in the car? Would you buy the car? Should all the cars be programmed this way? Who is responsible for the death of the kid that a driverless car hits? These are some of the difficult questions that we are already engaging and how do we decide what is 'good'. It's a fun course.
