Gregg's Good News

I have often walked down the hallway in the upstairs classroom wing first thing in the morning. What began as an opportunity to make sure the fire escape door was closed, took a shift. So, once again this morning, I prayed for the children who are present in those classrooms on Sunday morning. I often pray that all the children of this church will grow up to be strong women and men of God.

I recently found a bookmark in my Mom's Bible with the names of children she was praying for. And I'm not the only man with a laminated card on my desk with the names of children I pray for.

It's become an expectation that a percentage of the kids who grow up in church will drift away as soon as they exit High School. Even if that is the statistic, I'd still rather pray for all to remain faithful.

So, to all the Parents, Classroom Teachers, Kids Time Workers, 66 Club Planners and every member of the congregation who sees children and helps them know this is their congregation: "Let us not become weary in doing good, for at the proper time we will reap a harvest if we do not give up. There-fore, as we have opportunity, let us do good to all people, especially to those who belong to the family of believers." (Gal. 6:9-10)

Saturday, Feb. 24 at Keizer Church of Christ.
"Deep Things of God: The mystery of the Trinity and the Christian life" taught by Dr. Mark Powell of Harding School of Theology.

This week in the ethics class we explored how prayer plays a role in ethics. How often have you prayed before making a major decision? What about praying in the morning for wisdom in your decision making throughout the day? Prayer is important for aligning our heart with God's heart. This is beyond intercession and asking for God to do things. Aligning your heart with God's heart is about a relationship; getting to know God, sharing your ideas and inviting God to lead you in making plans. It includes silent listening and resting in His presence. Trusting that God is listening and loves you and will transform you as you continue to seek Him. Prayer is vital for a Christian that desires to live in the kingdom of God and participate in the work God is doing and calling us to join.

Sign your kids up today for Friday's Parents' Night Out. Babysitting is free but you can donate to the mission trip if you want.
