Gregg's Good News

Early yesterday morning, the noise from sirens was loud and continued for a long time. I don't know what event prompted the call for first responders. But I do know this, the siren is intended to serve as a warning.

I am increasingly surprised when I meet an emergency vehicle with lights flashing, that so many drivers seem to be oblivious. Rather than slowing and pulling to the side of the road—they drive on as if they are too busy to be interrupted. (Christians: Don't be one of those oblivious, selfish drivers, OK?)

But then again, ignoring a warning seems to be part of human nature. Go to the coast and take note of a dangerous drop-off. There is a fence, and a sign that says, "Danger—you may lose your life if you go beyond this point!" Yet the clear foot prints in the sand reveal that many are ignoring the warning.

What do you think? Perhaps we need a siren mounted atop the church building. And every time the siren goes off, it could be followed with a warning Jesus would offer: "Repent or perish!" But it would soon become another warning people could ignore.

What's going on? In Greek mythology, there were also "Sirens." These maidens sang an enticing song that lured sailors to their deaths. Maybe we're living in a world that has so many sweet-songed Sirens that people's ears are plugged to the warning siren.

Does that describe you? If not, it is time for you to join the chorus singing the glory of God. And the truth that life lived with Jesus IS better.

Pam and I will be on vacation June 28-July 4 celebrating my sister's 50th anniversary.

Minister Search Committee Update
We received 10+ applications just this week!
Pray for the committee to discern God's will as we pick a new Minister.

How did you work for God this week? How did you rest in God this week? It's easy to identify the work we do for God, but what does it look like to rest in God?

Every Life Group meeting, we talked about how we saw God moving in our lives this week. Sometimes this question was met with a few minutes of silence. A few minutes when everyone reflected on their week and looked for God moving in their lives. In the busyness of our week, we made it a habit to rest in God for a few minutes and reflect on what He is doing in our lives.

Some people rest in God daily as they read His Word. Some people rest in God as they pray, giving Him their cares for the day. You have probably noticed that a lot of Worship songs are prayers. Some people rest in God as they listen to Worship music in their car. Some people rest in God by reading a book that helps them grow as a Christian.

Some important God Work is coming up: Super Saturday and the Clothing Give Away. What is one thing you can do this week to rest in God as we prepare for that busyness?
