Gregg's Good News

I don't know how many hundreds of times I have done it. It is part of my morning routine nearly every day. The task is washing the lenses of my glasses. I am daily making the effort to get the specks and oil off. If I don't, they cloud my vision.

Jesus makes an interesting statement in Luke 11:34-36. ³⁴Your eye is the lamp of your body. When your eyes are healthy, your whole body also is full of light. But when they are unhealthy, your body also is full of darkness. ³⁵See to it, then, that the light within you is not darkness. ³⁶Therefore, if your whole body is full of light, and no part of it dark, it will be just as full of light as when a lamp shines its light on you."

I've often found those verses somewhat perplexing. But when I consider them with my practice of cleaning my glasses in mind, I may be understanding them better. When my lenses are clouded, I'm not seeing things as they truly are. When my lenses are clean, my vision is accurate. Cloudy lenses could lead me to completely misinterpret things I am seeing. As a result, my actions in response could be completely wrong.

Eyes that are not trained to see things under the influence of the light of God can easily misinterpret what is seen. Evil can look good and good lose its luster if your eyes have been under the influence of the darkness of the devil. But eyes that see with the light of God will illuminate your whole body, self and life. You will be "walking in the light." Good vision leads to good living.

That suggests a "to do." Do what it takes to keep your eyes clean and clear with each new day.

Thoughts, Questions, Notes

Kindness Walk

Robert F. Smith is a blind man with an incredible heart. He and Renee's brother, Robert, are in the middle of a month-long walk from Long Beach, CA to Las Vegas, NV. They are raising money for a service dog for Renee's client, Tyler Renfro, as well as for the blind and veterans in need. Additionally, they are performing acts of kindness for people they meet along the way. Renee will join them on Nov. 10th. If you are interested in sponsoring Renee's steps or donating to a worthy cause, go to thekindnesswalk.org.

TUESDAY EAT IN OR TAKE OUT

Come to the building on Tuesday, November 27th, between 5 and 7pm for dinner! We are having salad, fresh baked rolls, hot dogs, chili, scratch mac n cheese, green beans, and dessert. You can eat your meal here or take it home. Suggested donation: $3/adult, $1.50/child under 10 years old. Contact Loretta Hartman if you have questions, and see you here next Tuesday!

One thing that has amazed me this year is how much our young people like to serve. Walk 4 Water and Produce for the People have been our best outreach events for Americans. How do we get American students to show up? Ask them for money and ask them to do yard work. You may from time to time hear people complaining that millennials and gen Z kids are lazy. That is not my experience. Next time you hear someone say that, you can confidently reply "Not the students at our Church! Not the students I've met in Corvallis!" If you give them enough warning, there is nothing these young people love more than waking up at 8am on a Saturday and doing manual labor. In fact, I've started keeping a pair of work boots under my desk at UCC. Why? We never know when our next service project will spring out of the quickly evaporating ether of time—and at UCC we want to be dressed and ready.
