Thomas' Takeaways

According to the job site Salary.com in 2018, a mom's 'work', which was estimated on average between 96-100 hours a week, would equate to an annual earning of $162,581. I used their salary calculator with my estimates on what & how long Amy spends doing things at our home with Corvallis' tax and income rates, and it wound up being $166,218! The point is, moms work hard, and should be appreciated every single day in addition to Mother's Day. To hardworking and loving moms out there, we're thankful for you and pray God's blessings upon you. The unfortunate truth is, however, that many people grow up without moms, or their mothers are not the shining example of what a godly mother should be. Indeed, parenting today is too often fractured across the board with many single parents still doing an amazing job working twice as hard with less resources. While this isn't fun to think about, we do need to realize and reckon with it because it provides a wonderful opportunity for God's people.

We in the church should be soaking up the example and lessons from these godly moms. We should be learning from those that do it best what it means to work hard for family we love, to both nurture and admonish when needed, and how to care for people in every aspect of life at every maturity level. What godly moms can teach us is invaluable.

We in the church then ought to take these lessons and actually live them out to people who walk through our doors that need it most. With so many families fractured or even broken, the church should be the place where people find true love, caring, and comfort. Mothers reflect God's love & comfort in their unique ways, perhaps the church ought to intentionally reflect that aspect of who God as well. Thank you mothers for what you teach us, and we pray that your reflections of God shine through us out into the world!

Thoughts, Questions, Notes

If you know a graduate...

If you know anyone who is graduating or getting a degree anytime (spring, fall or winter) this year, let Ed Gunselman or Maria Zhang know by May 12th and fill out a graduation information questionnaire by May 26th.

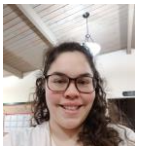

1655 NW Monroe Ave. Corvallis, OR 97330 osucc.com

We just returned from a wonderful fundraising trip to Newport Ave. Church in Bend. Over the years we have deep relationships with this sponsoring congregation. Each year Glenn gives us a big hug. Frank always introduces us and begins to tear up because he is so happy to see young people serving the Lord. I feel many in the Bend church are my extended parents and grandparents. This is a special gift we have in Churches of Christ in Oregon-a true sense of family unity. There is very little judgment or gossip in Oregonian Churches of Christ, we all realize we are interconnected and dependent on one another. So continue to pray for the Bend Church as they are searching for a new minister. Let's support them every way we can. "How good and pleasant it is when God's people live together in unity (Psalm 133)!"
