Gregg's Good News

Today is the last Sunday that Jason Swick will be with us before moving. I still remember meeting Jason for the first time when the Elders sent Pam and I to the National Campus Ministers meeting in Nashville to "recruit." It was 2007. Josiah had been born just a week before.

Jason and Amanda had a one-year commitment left in their internships with the Campus Ministry to West Virginia University. So, in addition to my congregational responsibilities, during that 2007-2008 school year, I and various interns (notably Jasmine Womack) kept the UCC schedule moving. Needless to say, we were all delighted when the Swick family moved to Corvallis to begin their work with us.

Paul counseled Timothy at II Tim. 2:2 "And the things you have heard me say in the presence of many witnesses entrust to reliable men who will also be qualified to teach others." As a minister with an ever- increasing number of years of experience, Jason's openness to mentoring was a gift to me. First wedding, first funeral, hospital ministry, insight to sermon development on a weekly basis as well as numerous "how to's" were part of the life we shared together.

But our relationship has been anything but "one way." Jason has been an effective sounding board, confidante and source of wise counsel.

This is not the first time I've had a great partner move on to their next adventure. Each time, I am reminded that partnership in the gospel produces ties of the heart in fellow ministers that is very strong.

But I smile as I send the Swick family with this prayer: "Almighty Father, change the world with this family who will communicate Christ. Change the world of Central Oregon as you send Jason, Amanda, Josiah, Jaron and Justus from Corvallis to that corner of the continent. In Jesus' name, Amen."

"You have heard that it was aid, 'Love your neighbor and hate your enemy.' But I tell you, love your enemies and pray for those who persecute you, that you may be children of your Father in heaven" (Mt 5:43). This was our theme verse for TNT (Tuesday Night Teens). We played a game of human battleship (pictured below) where we started out throwing water balloons and ended throwing candy at each other. Then we had excellent worship lead by Nathanial Franklund, a hysterical skit involving most of our teens, and a brief devotional about loving your enemies. Special thanks to all the teens and parents who helped. Christ's message was communicated through fun, fellowship and worship last Tuesday.
