From The Desk Of Jennifer Boss

At the middle point of my life and long since baptized, and explaining about being a believer in a fallen world and baptism to a niece and nephew, certain scriptures come back into the forefront of one's mind. After committing one's life to the Lord, in many ways, the journey has just begun. There's work to be done, on yourself and for others, all the days you have left on this earth.

2 Peter 1:3-10 "His divine power has given us everything we need for life and godliness through our knowledge of Him who called us by His own glory and goodness. Through these He has given us His very great and precious promises, so that through them you may participate in the divine nature and escape the corruption in the world caused by evil desires. For this very reason, make every effort to add to your faith goodness; and to goodness, knowledge; and to knowledge, self-control; and to self-control, perseverance; and to perseverance, godliness; and to godliness, brotherly kindness; and to brotherly kindness, love. For if you possess these qualities in increasing measure, they will keep you from being ineffective and unproductive in your knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ. But if anyone does not have them, he is near-sighted and blind, and has forgotten that he has been cleansed from his past sins. Therefore, my brothers, be all the more eager to make your calling and election sure. For if you do these things, you will never fall."

The Word reminds us to be productive and effective. To be learning from the Word and be active in it. All items listed take work and intention to grow in and add to. If we are not in the Word, continuously, reading God's will, obeying that which He has commanded us, being daily reminded of the hope we have in Christ Jesus, and aware of those walking around us that do not, we risk becoming near-sighted and blind. I am encouraged by the church family I've grown up with and those that still meet today. I grew up with the '66 Books of the Bible Club,' 'Bible Olympics,' Bible studies and youth group, Sunday class, and mission trips. Everything centered around the Word. Discussing the Word, memorizing the Word, and implementing the Word. It was written on my heart. I do not think it an accident that this church has not been swayed easily by the gale winds of pop culture or politics from the grounding of the Gospel.

Thank you members of the body of Christ for encouraging each other to be in the Word, and to be productive and effective in our knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ.

Christmas Food Boxes

Let Charlene Franklund know if you yourself or know of someone that would benefit from the holiday gift cards/food boxes. Or if you would like to financially donate to the holiday food boxes.

Christmas gift card/food boxes will be handed out on December 16th.

Please contact Charlene Franklund if you would like to deliver gift cards or food boxes to people in the community.

Need to see if anyone can build a new donation box for clothing giveaway. It does need to be waterproof and have 2 openings. One for dropping clothes in and the other to remove donations and ability to keep it locked up. Please see Lorelee for more information

Happy Thanksgiving weekend. Special thanks to those who were willing to invite college students in for Thanksgiving: Jim and Lois Knutson, Conner and Melissa Murphy, James and Misty Freeman, and Allen and Cathy Brooks (also everyone else who helped Cathy cook at the church).

Thanksgiving has no direct connection to the Bible, but I’ve always thought about it as a very Christian holiday. It is perhaps the most applicable to our mission at UCC “communicating Christ from Corvallis to the continents.” In the first Thanksgiving, the Pilgrims (devout Christians trying to restore the Kingdom of God) were starving to death and the Native Americans taught them to farm the rocky New England soil by adding dead fish. After the first successful harvest, the Pilgrims invited the Native Americans to a feast to show gratitude. At UCC, the position is reversed. We Christians are now the locals who welcome the non-Christians. We teach them how to survive/succeed in the United States, then share the Gospel. Thanksgiving has always been a holiday where we break down racial barriers, show neighborliness to newcomers, and share the Gospel with unbelievers. So let’s keep paying it forward until Jesus comes back.
