Joyful In God

Often in the Bible, we see that joy and trouble seem to hold hands. It's easy sometimes to think that joy is the natural response to everything being all right in our world. But if that were true, we would hardly ever experience any sense of joy. Even though we may have seasons where most things are going right, it's rare they stay that way for long. Joy doesn't come only in the absence of trouble but is made even more meaningful and more pronounced by the presence of trouble.

In times of trouble, those who put their trust in Jesus have reason to rejoice—not because the battle is over, but because they are sheltered amid the battle. God doesn't always eliminate the trouble, but he does give us protection and will defend us in the middle of it. He is faithful to hear our cries and works powerfully on our behalf when we call His name for help.

Yes, life is hard. Impossibly hard at times. We can go through seasons where the trouble never seems to end. But when we choose to turn our hearts toward the source of our salvation, instead of focusing solely on our situation, that same trouble and turmoil can serve to push us into the open arms of Jesus where real joy lives. We can rejoice again because God is worthy of our trust. We can shout for joy because we are His children, and He defends us.

I'm always amazed by the ability of God's people to give to missions. As most of you know, we needed $4,000 dollars to go on our mission trip and we raised $5,700, $1,100 from Southwest Church of Christ, $3,860.95 coming from you, and the rest coming from individuals outside our congregation. Also, the Church of Christ in Hughson is hosting us for 2 nights on the way down and the way back to New Mexico—God's people are so generous! Another thing that impressed me is this congregation's history of generosity towards international students. I was looking through old photo albums from the 80's and 90's, and I saw an international student on almost every page. This is a great Church that cares deeply about communicating Christ from Corvallis to the continents and I am honored to work here. Circle was a Church on mission in the 80's, and it still is today. Don't let anyone tell you otherwise. "Thanks be to God for his indescribable gift!" 2 Corinthians 9:15.
