Heidi Powell Update

Heidi is finishing up her radiation treatments, and new data from recent scans shows that she does not need to start chemotherapy right away. Instead, she will begin a course on a pill that will last 8-10 weeks. After that time, doctors will evaluate the tumors, and they hope to see some shrinkage. If this treatment works, Heidi will not need chemotherapy.

Heidi is currently in a lot of pain. Please pray for her to experience relief from her pain, and please pray that the course of treatment is as targeted and effective as Tom and Heidi have been praying it is.

Please consider blessing Heidi and her family by signing up on the Meal Train to provide a meal. This can be a meal you cook, a meal you buy from a restaurant, or even a gift card to a local restaurant. Meals are such a great way to show people they are loved, so please consider blessing this family! The Meal Train link can be found in the Circle Family News group on Facebook, in the April 23rd Midweek Message, or Maria can email it to you directly. The Powells have no food allergies, although meals with lean protein are especially beneficial to Heidi as she continues with her treatments.

The Powells want to extend a thank you to everyone who has already stepped in to help out their family at this time, and a big thank you to everyone who has been praying for Heidi. Thoughts, Questions, Notes

Special thanks this week to Loretta Hartman. She's been cleaning UCC ever since Loralea's back surgery and she's cooked UCC dinner for us 2 weeks in a row. This lady gives and gives.

Time for another Lord of the Rings reference. I feel like Loretta's return to Circle is like Gandalf's return in the Two Towers. She comes to us now, "at the turn of the tide."
